Important: For this type of Funeral, please note that we must abide by the decision of the relevant Burial or Cremation authority for permission to use this type of Coffin. In addition, families should also be aware that a death may present us with certain sets of circumstances beyond our control where it would be in contravention of our obligations to consider Health and Safety to use this type of Coffin. We always do our utmost to accommodate family wishes but we do reserve the right to decline their use in some cases.
